

Do you want the skills to take your music out of the garage, into the studio and on to the stage?

Do you want the skills to take your music out of the garage, into the studio and on to the stage? As a music student at NMIT, you'll have the chance to play at gigs, create and record your own music, take control as a sound engineer and show off your songwriting skills at end-of-semester concerts. With skilled and experienced musicians as tutors and state-of-the-art recording and performance facilities, you'll gain a full picture of the music industry and the know-how to forge your own career through marketing and promotion.

Discover your future as a musician, band member, sound engineer, song-writer, music producer, session musician, teaching, music management, sound technician or in other technical roles.

Housed in our purpose-built, award winning arts and media facility, all creative industries students come together under the one roof, with the most up-to-date technologies at hand to get you started in your creative career. You bring the talent and we'll provide the support and expertise to help you develop it.

Related programmes

---

NEW ZEALAND CERTIFICATE

New Zealand Certificate in Music

Level 4

APPLY NOW

---

NEW ZEALAND DIPLOMA

New Zealand Diploma in Music

Level 5

APPLY NOW

Related News

---

NEWS

10 days ago

NMIT students praised for 'extraordinary quality' work on feature film project

NMIT students have received high praise for their "extraordinary" visual effects work on a feature film project.

---

BLOG

2 months ago

NMIT Contemporary Music Hour

Tune in and listen to original tracks from NMIT Contemporary Music students.

---

Studying music at NMIT 'changed my approach to education'

When Ngaio Richards discovered the New Zealand Certificate in Music programme at NMIT, she realised she could get the more personalised education in her hometown.

---

Design graduate creates brand identities that embody their client's values

Newly qualified graphic designer Luke Hippolite is about to step into the real world. He has a startling portfolio of commercial and concept work in hand plus a finely-tuned grasp on life as an artist.